Doesn't matter. Because of what you said to my face in my kitchen, I'm still going to do whatever I desire with anyone I want. You will just have to grit your teeth and deal with all the visuals that you put in my head. Oral. All of it. People don't change. You continued to betray me with shaving. You proved that you don't know what real love is.. or you couldn't care less what I wanted or needed. I've taken notice. I'm busy.
